READING CHALLENGES

MAIN IDEA

Read the following paragraph, then help Dizzy find the main idea and 3 supporting details.

The worker bees of Bumbleburg Hive have a very special job: collecting pollen. These bees are known for being a bit restless, so buzzing around flowers is the perfect activity to keep them active and out of trouble. As they fly from blossom to blossom, they're not just having fun; they're pollinators, helping every flower they visit to grow and thrive. And the best part? All their hard work has a sweet reward! The pollen they gather is turned into delicious honey, which is a favorite snack in the bee community. As you can see, collecting pollen is an important activity for every single bee in the hive.

POETRY

Read the following poem, then help
Fishbeard answer the questions.

A Pirate's Life

The captain sailed the deep blue sea,
but left his compass on the beach!
Forgot his map, quite carelessly — completely lost, no land to reach.

No stars to guide; night dark as ink.
Upon the deck, he spilled his drink.
A parrot squawked, "We're on the brink!"
A pirate's life? Harder than you think.
